LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

When a BULLETIN representative was coming out of the dockyard gate of the O. S. S. Co. with a file of S. F. papers, a fresh Customs official stopped him to search the papers for opium. He did not get any.

Mrs. J. Allan returned on Saturday from her visit to Molokai in search of Hawaiian curios. Her excursions proved successful. Among other ancient relics she brought a kua or tapa board for beating the bark of trees, prior to its weaving into tapa or cloth. Mrs. Allan will make a tour of the other islands shortly.

Mr. Fred Somers, former editor of the San Francisco Argonaut, who passed through here some weeks ago with Sir Edwin Arnold and Mr. Joseph Grant, on their way to China, arrived by the Australia this morning. Mr. Somers was on the City of Peking when she passed on to San Francisco, and intended, with Mr. Grant and a party of tourists, to land here and visit the volcano.

One of the prettiest places at Pearl City is the residence of Mr. John F. Colburn on the peninsula. It was before the present owner occupied it an algalora jungle. Now it is a beautiful park, with an outlook over an arm of the harbor and a spacious fish pond, with the Waianae mountains and the Ewa bluffs in the prospect. Mr. Colburn has built two cottages on the lot, with which the old house make abundant accommodation for his family and friends.

The French cook for the Hotel did not arrive on the Australia this morning, owing to a refusal of the Cooks' Labor Union of San Francisco to allow the man to come, after he had made terms and paid his passage for himself and assistant, and a month's advance of wages had been arranged with Chief Steward James of the Australia, who acted for the Hotel in engaging the men. It is supposed that the officers of the Cooks' Union had not been properly fed or paid, hence their reason for putting the ban on a cook engaging for Honolulu.

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. Fifty-cent bottles for sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents.

At this season of the year one is apt to regard every well-dressed couple on a railroad train as a bridal pair.

THE MURDERED CHINAMAN!

Arrest of the Dimond's Cook by Officer Lockhart in San Francisco.

The Night Watchman of the Vessel Gives Evidence Against Him.

A letter has been received by the BULLETIN from San Francisco, stating that Officer Lockhart of Honolulu had arrested the colored cook of the barkentine W. H. Dimond, on suspicion of being the murderer of the Chinaman whose body was found in the harbor here on April 17. The writer says the Hawaiian Consul will not assist the officer at all, so the latter would probably not be able to bring his prisoner to Honolulu by the Australia. It appears that Consul McKinley did not receive instructions from the Foreign Office, consequently would not do anything in the matter. The following particulars are from the Chronicle of May 4th and 5th:

THE FOURTH.

Illinois Wise, the colored cook and steward of the barkentine W. H. Dimond, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the vessel's arrival from Honolulu on a charge of murdering a Chinese at Honolulu on or about April 17th. The arrest was made on a United States warrant sworn out by a detective from Honolulu, who claims to have collected sufficient evidence of a circumstantial nature to warrant such a course.

Wise is a married man, 46 years old, and says he resides at 829 Vallejo street, in this city. He is below the medium size, but of powerful build.

Wise was seen by a Chronicle reporter yesterday soon after he was taken to the County Jail. "My arrest was a great surprise," said he. "I know nothing of the Chinese who was supposed to have been murdered at Honolulu while I was there. I have been on the barkentine W. H. Dimond for the past nine months and made a number of trips to the islands."

The prisoner was straightforward in what he had to say and answered all questions put to him quite readily.

It is stated that the circumstantial evidence on which the arrest was based consisted in the finding of the Chinese body and a bundle of blankets in the water close to the barkentine W. H. Dimond and in view of the report that the negro cook of the vessel, Wise, had been seen to throw an iron bar overboard during the night of the murder.

When Officer Thomas McGlynn of the harbor police arrested Wise he had $30 in gold on his person which could not be accounted for. While in Honolulu Wise received $10 in silver from Captain Nelson and was supposed to have spent it before leaving. The detective is trying to make capital out of this, as the murdered Chinese was believed to have had a sum of money on his person when killed.

THE FIFTH.

Illinois Wise, the colored cook of the barkentine W. H. Dimond, is still confined in the County Jail, and likely to remain there until taken to Honolulu to answer to a charge of murder. Captain Brown O. Nelson of the barkentine appeared before Commissioner Sawyer yesterday and filed a complaint charging Wise with killing a Chinese on board the vessel while she was lying alongside the Oceanic dock at Honolulu. The crime is alleged to have been committed on Saturday night, April 16th.

Night Watchman Paul Arntsen of the vessel is the man who furnished the information which led to the arrest. He says that on the night of the murder he plainly heard the groans of a human being in distress coming from the cook's rooms, forward, but was afraid to investigate. The groans were heard at intervals for a couple of hours, when everything became still. Wise came out of his room before daylight and told the night watchman that he had better go to sleep, as he was willing to stand his watch out. Arntsen says he refused, and gave as a reason that he had the brass work on the vessel to polish. But the night watchman suspected that something was wrong and he went into the forecastle and roused two of the sailors.

When the trio appeared on deck they caught Wise in the act of throwing an iron bar overboard. Then he was watched returning to his room. His clothing was spattered with blood, and in the room blood was found in the bulkhead and in all directions. Wise threatened to kill Arntsen and his two companions if they said a word.

Three hours later the badly mutilated body of the Chinese was found floating near the barkentine, and near by was a straw mattress, pillow and blanket, all wrapped up with a big lump of coal in the center.

The supposition is that the colored cook enticed the Chinese on board the vessel and into his room, under promise of smuggling him to this city; then finding he had a little money with him, beat him to death with an iron bar, and while the night watchman was below deck threw the body of the Chinese overboard, after taking what money could be found.

Captain Nelson said yesterday that he was on shore on the night of the murder, and knew nothing of it until after the body was found. Previous to sailing, the night watchman and the crew informed him of all that had taken place. It was too late to delay the vessel, so, after apprising the authorities, he set sail.

Detective Lockhart of Honolulu is in the city, and is looking after Wise's case and the extradition papers for his return to the islands.

The bringing of Chinese to this port from Honolulu is often tried. The colored cook of the bark Albert made such an attempt when that vessel was at Honolulu lately. He agreed to smuggle three Chinese into this city, and hid them in his room. Captain Winding heard of the matter and put the Chinese ashore. The cook hearing of this action ran away from the vessel.

EVIDENCE SECURED.

Marshal Wilson has received by mail from Lockhart a full account of his doings. He had Wise arrested the afternoon of the day the steamer arrived. The Marshal says the captain of the Dimond only told him there was a clue on board just before the vessel's sailing. One of the condemning circumstances is that, while a quantity of bedding was found in the water with the body, Wise had scarcely any bedding in his bunk on the passage hence in fact, would not sleep there after the night of the murder. One article he retained which has been secured in San Francisco is a sheet numbered 266, and the Marshal has possession of a pillow case numbered 266 which was recovered with the body.

PRINTER WITH A PISTOL.

Gus Aea, a printer employed in the Elele office, was arrested yesterday in a cottage on Emma street. The residence was occupied by the family of the late A. P. Carter and Wm. Kino and wife, the latter having been a Miss Carter. Gus occupied a room in the building. Last night he partook of too much gin which made him feel supreme. He took possession of the place and ordered everyone about. A friend named David Kekulu, who works on the city front, paid him a visit but was ordered off the premises. David complied with the command, but as he was going out Gus, elated at his evident superiority, called David some hard names. David turned round to resent the remarks, when a pistol shot was fired at him, luckily not hitting him. Gus was arrested on the charge of assault with a weapon and will be tried to-morrow. He is out on bail.

THE BULLETIN has no occasion to be troubled about circulation, although it may manifest a friendly concern for the veracity of would-be rivals on that score. Not only has the BULLETIN's circulation always been in the lead, but it keeps on growing in spite of hard times. Good evidence of this its popularity as a newspaper, and assurance to advertisers in its columns that it is their most desirable medium.

ROYAL AUDIENCE.

King Teburemoa of the Gilbert Islands was accorded an audience by the Queen on Saturday. He wrote his own name as given above in the visitors' book, which settles any question as to its correct orthography. His Majesty was accompanied by Nani Talen, his nephew, and Captain Walter C. Ferguson, a fellow-passenger on the S. S. Montserrat. Mrs. Sarah L. Gardner, wife of the master of the missionary vessel Morning Star, acted as interpreter. Her Majesty conversed with King Teburemoa a few minutes through the interpreter. Others present were Revs. C. M. Hyde, D. D., and O. P. Emerson, and Mrs. Hannah B. Smith, Mrs. Garland's mother. The Queen was attended by His Excellency and Mrs. Samuel Parker, Major the Hon. and Mrs. Jas. W. Robertson, Col. the Hon. and Mrs. C. P. Iaukea, Col. the Hon. John Richardson, and Mrs. C. B. Wilson, lady-in-waiting. After the audience the visiting monarch was conducted to the throne room, where he was shown the feather cloak and kahilis. The bandmen sang two or three native songs, Prof. Berger leading on the piano, afterwards playing a few selections on their instruments. His Majesty was much pleased with the music. The visit occupied an hour, and Dr. Hyde took the king to the North Pacific Missionary Institute.

The Montserrat sailed for the Gilbert Group, with King Teburemoa and companions on board, about 7 o'clock Saturday evening, the party having been taken out to the steamer by a steam launch from the U. S. F. S. San Francisco.

A BIG STRIKE!

When labor and capital fall out then comes a strike. When good material comes to the hands of the brainy workman an article is produced which causes a strike of a different character.

Our biggest strike was made with the "HENDRY BREAKER," because it does its work better than any plow in the Kingdom; the draft is so light that it is but child's play to handle it and the parts are so strong and well put together that it will work in the toughest kind of soil. You'll strike it right if you buy one of them.
